WorkMiles Privacy Policy

The application is not connected to Internet and does not automatically collect any information at all.

User typed driving journal data is stored locally in WorkMiles sandbox database. Only when exported the user gets to decide what to do with the text- or pdf files produced. iOS generic content handler is responsible for this so WorkMiles itself does not need to ask for any permissions.

The above implies that it is not possible to share anything with third parties. The user is in full control.
